SELF-RELIANCE.

When the clouds are lowering o'er thee,
And in loneliness and sorrow
Thou canst see no star before thee,
Heralding a bright to-morrow,
Let no coward thought persuade thee
To resign a glorious strife;
Ask no human friend to aid thee
In the battle-field of life.

In the chambers of the soul,
Where, perchance they've slumber'd long,
Thou hast still supreme control
O'er an army brave and strong.
Hope and energies still are there,
High resolve and mighty thought;
Brother! why with these despair?
Nobler allies never fought.

Onward, then, without a fear!
Rest not, faint not by the way!
God will make the star appear,
And usher in a brighter day.

A TREMENDOUS ORIGINAL ROMANCE!

[Written Distressfully for the Sunday Mercury.]

THE ASSESSED PAUPER;

Or, The Stock Broker's Victim!

A Tale of Thrilling Horrors!

BY A 250 POUND NOVELIST.

CHAPTER ONE.

No one to dupe, no one to assess,
Wandering dead-broke in this stock wilderness.
—Broker's Refrain.

Our fishing scene opens at San Francisco's Hotel de Hospital. It is early-bird twilight upon lordly Russian Hill. Over and beyond the Hill the Pacific Ocean was heard, kicking up an eternal bobbery about who knows what? Something sublime, vast, awful and foggy! The dashing author would plunge into the vasty bosom of the ruffled deep and drag forth the mysterious cause of its unrest, but the ruffles are too many—too many for him. His boots leak.

Meanwhile the Night has put her starry cap upon the bald head of the drowsy old Earth, compelled it to disgorge its cud of tobacco and is leading it boobily to bed.

"Bother this 'ere supe!"

This heart-rending expression oozed from the ghoully lips of an individual of some 79 frost-bitten winters, with a large patch of potato-sacking clutched onto the broad seat of his mysterious trousers.

"Wor he a Digger? a scion of the royal Potato-Digger tribe?" methinks I hear a million romantic readers query. No! two million scornful nose! He wor a white man's haughty brother! You would not think it, but he wor—oh, he wor.

His sit-down wor potato-sacked, but his standing wor yet good. He had feet in his boots, feet into his pockets, feet into his imagination, feet into every one of his midnight dreams.

Did he tripp up onto some of his feet, he could come down upon the others.

So thought he.

Fanatic!

Lunatic!

Sponatic!

But we shall see.

Onto all his feet, excepting those in Leather Boot Ledge, he sported Washoe, Esmeralda, Reese River or Mexican gold and silver spurs.

He wor a game cock.

He wor full of leads, dips and angles.

As our romance finds him, he wor dipping into a bowl of Hotel de Hospital soup, angling for beans.

The surface indications were rich, oh, so rich! yet our hero could not pan out a single bean.

"Bother this 'ere supe!" he growled, sloshing the beautifully galvanized iron spoon frantically, madly, deliciously about into generous California's benevolent State liquid.

Wretch!

Distard!

Bound!

But we shall see.

Once more he prospected carefully, patiently, painfully. Then with eyes bursting with expectation, he slowly elevated his spoon and found—

Oh, horror!

Ah, despair!

Alas, demmition!

Nary bean.

"Bother this 'ere breach of confidence supe!" said he. With this classic expletive he grabbed the bowl and threw it into the middle of next week.

Bang!

Crash!

Smash!

Then he burst into a flood of tears.

It wor evident that he wor a man of sensitive feelings and had been delicately breaded up to his present exalted position. Notwithstanding the vulgar patch that had clutched itself onto the generous seat of his trousers, you could see that he was haughty, tender, sentimental and hungry in his feelings. Oh, so hungry.

"This will not do, this is unmanly," murmured he, choking himself most to death in his efforts to swallow a convulsive sob.

But he gulliped it.

His was a heroic soul!

Not many such are there in these sor-did days.

With much dignity he then rammed his hand into his pocket and drew forth a bunch of beautifully ornamented certificates of mining stock, and wiping his eyes and blowing his nose thereupon, heaved them unconcernedly over his head.

Start not, gentle reader—

He knew their exact value.

He had been "froze out,"

He had been assessed.

He had been "salted."

His name was Legion.

CHAPTER TWO.

"Weep when you must, but now be gay,
We'll collect our assessments to-day."
—Chorus Mining Co's Secretaries.

As Legion sat thus, defiant though starving, proud though patched, in the brilliant dining hall at the festive board of the Hotel de Hospital, there came a knocking, thumping, hammering, pounding, tunking on the outer door.

"Bulgein," wor Legion's aristocratic response, modestly changing his base, so as to bring the patch to his rear.

The door creaked upon its mighty hinges, there was a trampling of restless feet outside, with a convulsive groan the door swung back, and fourteen thousand Mining Secretaries defiled solemnly into the room, each bearing under his right arm a ponderous ledger, each having stuck behind his right ear a gigantic eagle's quill, each having tied around his hat three yards of black crape, the ends of which streamed out behind his back. These fourteen thousand Mining Secretaries were all lean men, with ghastly, bony faces, and they were all dressed in black from head to foot, and kept up a continual smothered croaking among themselves, like a flock of starving crows.

One by one they hopped before Legion, opened their ponderous ledgers and read therefrom:

"You are assessed five dollars a share upon fifty shares in such-and-such mine, standing upon the books of So-and-so Company, in your name."

To each, Legion made response:

"Sell the stock, and send me the balance in beans!"

Such a hero!

At this reply each Secretary uttered an ominous croak and departed. So did they till the last one of the fourteen thousand, leaner, ghastlier and blacker than all the rest, stood before him.

"You are assessed fifty dollars a share upon ten hundred shares in the Spring Valley Water Works Co."

"Dam the Spring Valley Water Works Company!" yelled the now frantic Legion, hoarsely; "sell it and send me the balance in h—U!"

As he gave vent to this profane sentence, Legion lost his balance and fell over backwards, exposing the terrible potato-sacking patch that wor clutched onto the seat of his mysterious trousers to the glaring Secretary! That Secretary is now in Stockton, crazy with deliriums, in which are forever dancing the seats of mysterious trousers with ghoully potato-sacking patches clutched onto 'um.

There wor a funeral at the Hotel de Hospital the next day. The pall that trailed from the bier wor made of potato-sacking.

Such wor the awful latter end of Legion.

He knocked under.

He giv in.

The potato-sacking patch that was clutched onto the mysterious seat of this unfortunate man's trousers, is now in the possession of the cook of the Hotel de Hospital, who uses it as a dish-cloth. How are the mighty fallen! Have you paid your assessments? Such is life.

ALARMING FATALITY.

Dr. W. W. Carpenter of this city, has received a letter from a lady friend, resident of Honey Lake Valley, Plumas county, informing him of a singularly fatal disease, which, up to its date, had swept of thirty of the inhabitants of that Valley during the month of January.

Below we publish an extract from the letter; also Dr. Carpenter's theory of the causes producing fatality so alarming:

A PHOTOGRAPHIC MEMORY.

Some people have photographic memories. If they see a face once, under circumstances calculated to impress it on their recollection, it remains there forever. The memories of others are looking-glasses, from which the image passes as the substance is removed. One of the most extraordinary specimens of the former class of memories we have ever heard of is said to be possessed by a gentleman of New Orleans.

It is, indeed, if our authority is to be believed, "wax to receive and marble to retain." Our informant says that some months ago, this New Orleans phenomenon—who, by the way, is an officer of the United States army—acosted an individual with—

"How do you do, my dear fellow? Glad to see you looking so well.—But that was an awful scare we got, was it not?"

"Sir," said the accosted gravely "You have the advantage of me."

"Had the advantage of you, you mean—but not much; you were down nearly as soon as I was."

"Sir," said the party addressed, still more gravely, "you speak in riddles. Will you be so good as to explain?"

"Ah!" responded the phenomenon, "don't remember, I suppose. Quite natural. We had only a passing glimpse of each other."

"So you probably mistake me for some one else," returned the other, much more mystified than ever.

"Not a bit of it," said the man with photographic memory. "You were on board the steamer—when she blew up near Memphis, on the 22d of April at thirteen minutes past eleven o'clock, nine years ago, were you not?"

"Yes, I was; but—"

"But me no buts. So was I. You were blown up sky high. So was I.—Not that I saw you before the explosion. My first and only interview with you, sir, was in the air. You were going up as I was coming down. The glimpse I had of you was necessarily short. Your features was distorted by fright, our paces were killing, and I was wrong side up. Consequently, my opportunities for observation were unfavorable. But I never forget faces under any circumstances, however discomposing. I photographed you sir, and I have had you in my mind's eye ever since. The moment I saw you I recognized you as the original of my mental deguerreotype. Glad to see you looking in better trim than when I saw you last. But we all have our ups and downs in this world. Suppose we adjourn where we can crack a bottle of champagne for the sake of auld lang syne."

"Which," says our informant, as he wound up the story, "they accordingly did."

RANCHES IN THE MINES.—Mr. Hale, Senator from Placer County, has introduced a resolution of great importance to the holders of agricultural land in the mines. The object of the resolution is to call upon our Congressmen to use their efforts to procure a survey of all agricultural land in the mines, with a view of giving the occupants of the same a good title. There are thousands of acres of good land in the mines which are totally worthless so far as the mining is concerned, and which would be made of some account to the occupants by vesting in them a good title, thereby guaranteeing safety and security, in making necessary and desirable improvements. The revenue of the State would be greatly enhanced by the segregation of these lands, and the security of the possessor made firm by the United States patent to the soil.

Buckley's Advice.—Buckley, one of the four gamblers executed a few days ago at Aurora, on his way, met a young man of his acquaintance; addressing him said, "Will, will you take a dying man's advice?" I realize that my time is but of a few moments duration; I know I shall die to-day; and, therefore I must not be false to my feelings. Young man, never enter a dance house or a gambling house; never drink liquor and keep out of bad company; had I taken this advice I should not be on my way to the gallows now. Oh! that I had another life to live!"

At a recent revival meeting in Illinois an impulsive German was present. In the progress of the meeting Dutchy's feeling became overpowered, and rising and swinging his hat, he exclaimed, "Hurray for Sesus, he is der feller!"

STAGES RUN FROM LOS ANGELES TO COLORADO MINES IN THREE DAYS.

At a prayer meeting in the village of Spunktown, Maine, a country lad was noticed by one of the deacons, to hold down his head and wriggle in his seat, while the tears seemed to start at every moment. "A clear case of repentance," thought the deacon, as he quietly stepped up to the lad, and in a whisper, affectionately inquired: "How is it with you, my son?" The boy looked up, and supposing him to be the sexton, answered: "Oh, very bad, and I want to go out; my inside is a kicking up merry h—, and if ever I eat a currant pie again, my name ain't Jeems Billings."

He sells no goods at present, but adds to his vast wealth daily, by lending money on good security, being just as shrewd and close as he ever was, though he is much beyond seventy years of age." Alas for the poverty of riches.

QUINCY.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1864.

NATIONAL CONVENTION.

The State Central Committee of the Union Party of California, have called a Convention to elect delegates to attend the National Convention, which will meet during the coming summer in the East.

In several States, old political organizations have been discarded in reality, as well as in name, but in some the name still exists, and unless some move is had to collect the Union element into one vast political reservoir, it may prove prejudicial.

There is no National Central Committee of the Union Party, and if a call is made by any of the committees of old organizations, it will in the minds of many beget a feeling of prejudice against its nominees, for there are thousands of unconditional Union men who still cherish an unreasonable prejudice against being called a Republican, as there are thousands of Republican antecedents who would object most strenuously to be classed as Democrats.

The mind of man is so composed, that it presents a combination of contradictions, and there are thousands of radical Union men, (of democratic antecedents,) who are downright abolitionists, yet still possess a prejudice against the name of Republicanism.

In California, and in several of the other loyal States, the names of old parties have become extinguished among Union men. They no longer rally as Republicans or Democrats, but as patriots, and in the present terrible ordeal of our country, stand shoulder to shoulder for the nation, and national rights and honor. The name of Democracy or Republican, no longer possesses a charm for their ears, and they do not ask of their brother Unionists any endorsement of the Platform of Baltimore, Chicago, or Cincinnati. The Republican organization has fulfilled its mission, has served its purpose. Henceforth a Union man must be Radical, must be for the Republic—for the nation—and the question is, how can that element be welded into one solid compact mass, and become irresistible in its power. Certainly not from any call from the committee representing the Breckinridge wing of the old Democratic party, for the spirit of that organization is at the bottom of the treason, not from any move of the Douglas wing of the same party, for all of its members have given way to the march of events, and quietly fallen into the ranks of Union or Secession. Not from the Bell and Everett organization, for the life of that party has only been spasmodic since the death of Henry Clay, and not from the Republican organization, for it has given up its distinctive organization in the most of the loyal States since 1861.

Old parties then in our view are dead, and from the sound elements of all must be created a new one. What its name is to be we care not, but it will be forced to take radical grounds, as against the milk and water Unionism of the McClellanites, who cry Union once and Secession twice, who are for war when it is unsafe to be otherwise, and for peace when public sentiment will permit them to advocate their real sentiments.

In Congress the Union element is fully represented by men of all shades of past political belief. Higby and Cole are fair examples, and represent the extreme of past political belief. Shannon represents the Douglas element. In other States the same argument will hold; the same principle will be found to exist in the armies of the Republic. Then let the Union members of Congress unite in a call to the Union men of the nation, and the last stumbling block in the way of perfect fusion and Union will be removed, and regardless of past political belief, with eye fixed irrevocably on the preservation of our heritage, with hearts enthusiastic in love of the Republic, the citizens of the Nation will fix the Nationality of the citizen, irrevocably and forever.

We are led to give these views because we want to see the matter started right, for on the result of the next Presidential election will depend the answer to the question for which so much blood has been spilled, and so much treasure expended. Let the dead past bury its dead, and with the determination of patriots let each citizen who loves the Union stand firmly for it, and let not any political chicanery intervene to prevent a "more perfect union."

Fenwick.—A valued friend takes us to task for wishing to fence in the Court House; he thinks after the 7th of March, we had better fence the Copperheads out of the Court House. Our friend is "Cunning offence."

CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

The Union Central Committee of Plumas Co., met in accordance with the call heretofore published, and believing that the delegates to the State Convention to be held at Sacramento city, on the 24th of March, 1864, should represent the views of the largest number of Union men, agreed to call for a County Convention, which will be found in another column. We hope to see each precinct fully represented in Convention on the 19th of March, that a full and fair expression of the choice of the party in this county may be heard in the State Convention.

Of course there are no local or State officers to be nominated or elected this year, but the National will be to be expressed during the coming summer, and the voice of this loyal county should be heard in State Convention.

The State Central Committee have given us eight delegates to the State Convention, and while there may be but one voice as to who our Standard-Bearer shall be, yet there are other questions which render it imperative that a full convention should be held.

We again call on all Union men, who place no conditions to their love for the Republic, to attend and make the initial move for the Presidential canvass as thorough as possible.

Mon Law.—At Bannock City the people have organized a Vigilance Committee, and have hung thirteen men. At Aurora, a similar organization have hung four. Seventeen men were put out of the world by mobs, and yet their punishment was just. We see that Gov. Nye, started for Aurora but arrived too late, the men were hung, and the Gov. was told "it was all right."

Such spectacles are frequently the outgrowth of young mining communities, and pernicious as their fruits sometimes are, it is almost impossible to rebuke the actors. In the early times in this county, there were three men hung by the people, and that example had a good effect on rogues. But in civilized communities, the best plan is to submit to the law.

TAKING THE MINES.—For the fifteenth time during our State history, a bill has been introduced in the Legislature, having for its purpose the taxation of the mines, and for the fifteenth time was unceremoniously "postponed indefinitely." Its no use attempting taxation on that species of property, for the honest miners as a class have too many votes, and the politicians are too cautious of the hereafter; our miners are the principal consumers in the mountains, and they have taxes to pay which will cover their exemption, in the shape of increased prices at stores, &c.

NEW OFFICERS.—The new officials elected last fall go into office on the 1st Monday in March. The County officers for Plumas County, for the ensuing two years, are A. P. Moore, Co. Judge; J. R. Buckbee, District Atty.; Wm. W. Kellogg, County Clerk; E. H. Pierce, Sheriff; L. C. Charles, Under Sheriff; S. J. Clark, Treasurer; A. D. Halstead, Assessor; L. F. Cate, Coroner; Pub. Administrator, not qualified, Surveyor, E. R. Nichols; Sup't. Pub. Schools, A. S. Titus; Supervisors, A. Miller, J. Ford and J. Urie.

WEATHER.—The present winter is an anomaly. The first of March is at hand, and yet no snow has fallen in this valley save one little flurry the last of January. The hills are barren of snow save in some high localities. The edge of low swampy places are green with young grass; the roads are dusty, and our summer bids fair to "last all the year." Farmers have their fields ploughed and sowed, gardens are being made, but the miner will have to hunt dry diggings the coming season, unless the clouds shall drop fatness on the land in the shape of rain and snow.

VALLANDIGHAM.—In the U. S. Supreme Court, on the 15th, the application for a writ of certiorari in the case of Vallandigham was refused, on the ground of want of jurisdiction. So the great god of the Copperheads will continue to dwell in exile.

SACRAMENTO CORRESPONDENCE. SACRAMENTO, Feb. 22nd, 1864. DEAR UNION.—To-day is the anniversary of the birth of Washington, and the bunting flies from poles on the stores and hotels. Brad has been patriotic, drank sundry Washingtonian decoctions, toasted the heroes of the revolution, wished death and damnation to the present abortions of the great rebel, and don't feel much like endorsing the actions of the Solons, who have "indefinitely postponed" the bill which was intended to reach the case of the patriots of the O'Doherty and Barrett stamp.

The Supreme Court has decided the law allowing soldiers the right of voting to be unconstitutional. It is all right, for it brings a blast of praise from such patriots as Jim Coffroth, Henry Hartley, Beliar Brown &c., as Bromley says, but that breath is overpowered by a hurricane from those Union men and journals who are not required to file an affidavit that they are patriots, but a part of the curse is taken off by their decision in ex parte yale, which declares the law to exclude traitors and alien enemies from Courts to be "sound on the fundamental law," and praise on that point comes in from Union men, while copper-cuses curse such a cursed change-cusing court.

Brad thinks the Copperheads have reason to be their stars at such a "gentle manifestation" of justice, and like old Bartol "thank God they ain't dead and damned."

Judge Hoffman gives them another sop from the judicial pot, in the discharge of the notorious Greathouse of "Chapman notoriety." In that point the Judge differed from the President, for the President evidently considered that his proclamation did not include Greathouse, else he would not have been foolish enough to grant a "special pardon" to Rubery, the companion of Greathouse in the Chapman piracy, as well as in that "silent soliloquy" reserved behind prison bars for "Ye gay and gallant pirates."

The bill for Lassen County was introduced in the Assembly by Clark and referred to the Plumas and Shasta Delegation. It will come out from that committee O. K., but Brad doubts its success in the Senate, although but little open opposition is formed against it. Some of the Solons don't like the manner in which the Plumas officials were served during the Sage Brush war. Others do not admire the position assumed by the leading Lassenites on the boundary question. Others don't believe the Honey Lakers can support a county government, and in Brad's judgement, that is the only objection that can be urged against our brothers on the Eastern Slope, setting up an establishment of their own; but then Congress is at work on a general bankruptcy law, and if they only make counties persons within the scope of that law, it will just fit such ambitious fellows as are at work for Lassen. Brad thinks that two years hence would be soon enough for a new county in the Honey Lake region, for by that time they would, taking the three years last past as a criterion, have a tax list of over $500,000—which is the lowest amount for any community to enter on a county organization with safety, still, Brad glories in the pluck and indomitable spirit of the Honey Lakers, and as his vote won't be on the record, hopes that they may get a new county and annex to it all of Plumas; a portion of Shasta and Siskiyou, and a slice of all the agricultural portion of Sierra.

Brad took a trip to Oroville last Monday; had a ride on the cars from Marysville, took several apologies from Tom Callow, congratulated Gen. John Bidwell on his stars, saw Safford, and went him two better at the St. Nicholas, made all necessary explanations to the "Great War Chief" for calling him the Ajax of "Hittul Mak" in California, heard Judge Wells deliver a tip-top speech on steam, shook Charley Lott by his "bunch of fives," and danced all night with the beauty of Butte, and returned well pleased with the pleasure of the trip, and the success of the capitol of Butte. Brad tried to play himself off as a Plumas delegate; but the knowing ones declared that it sounded better to call him "The gentleman from Sacramento."

The Governor's bill has been amended so that the removal of persons shall only take place on the say-so of the Secretary of State and Attorney General, in addition to the Governor. Brad thinks that the amendment is a bait thrown out by the Shafterites to hook the friends of the bill, and if they bite, it will kill the bill, and then; that it is an inner wheel to the inside wheel of Low and Conness. And while on that question, Brad desires to say that the Copperheads are using every means known to them to create a breach in the Union ranks, by just patting Senatorial Shafter on the back—then praising Judge Shafter, and then, with a very fine and a stomach quaking and overcharged with bile, pat Low, Reading and Conness very gently, for neither of those gentlemen love their praises overmuch, and look upon coppery praise as slander.

Brad has no room in this epistle to give any ideas of the working of the political game, but if no bad weather intervenes between now and next week, will run some items of a private nature for the general political reader.

Before I forget it, your Assemblyman, "Uncle Bobby," has introduced a bill to have Election Boards furnished with printed blanks for making returns of elections; a good and wholesome Bill, which ought to, and will no doubt, become a law.

I send you "The new Gospel of Peace," by a brother of Fernandus; a rich satire on the honest means used by the political Jeremiahs to save their necks from the halter.

Yours, BRAD.

CORRESPONDENCE.

INDIAN VALLEY, Feb. 25th, 1864. MR. EDITOR:—I desire to endorse the views contained in your last issue under the head of Unionism. For the past four months there has been so much of dissection, and unfriendly difference of opinion manifested by the Union Press, towards one another, that the infection has been caught up by the people; and many harsh and unkind things are being said on every side, which unless soon curbed, will eventuate in no good to our cause in this State. You men of the Press are hardly aware of the rash influence you exert upon the public mind, that you would govern it at your will. If then these petty jealousies and unfriendly feelings enter into the heart of the people, and lead to division in our ranks, to you the blame is alone attributable, and the responsibility of discomfiture and defeat to our party, in its effort to sustain the country in this hour of its trial and peril, lays at your door. Yours in the privilege and the power, to give to public thought its proper tone, to hold together, united in one purpose, and an undivided effort to support, maintain, and defend our beloved country, in its purity and integrity, as against the efforts of evil minded, and madly infatuated enemies. It is time then that a rebuke should be administered, and Union editors everywhere should take heed that they give to our common enemy, no such aid and comfort or encouragement as even the slightest difference among us, never fails to afford. We may not all see alike as to the means to be resorted to, by which rebellion may be crushed, and the integrity of the country be maintained, but surely we can all have a common object in an unflinching desire and unwavering determination to defeat any and every effort being made to destroy our common country. To win the fight at all hazard, and at every expense, should and must be our every and only object. They who cannot lose sight of personal animosities, at such a moment as this, and under such circumstances as now surround us; have but small love for the country, and he who would be a stumbling block in the way of success to the country's side is worse than a rebel. Of what avail would be the political faith of Douglas men, Republicans, Bell and Everett men, or any other kind of men, unless we have a country, with just such institutions and glorious privileges as we are permitted to enjoy, guaranteed and secured unto us, in and by which we might entertain our peculiar opinions. Then away with your discussions and strictures upon this and that point of policy pursued by the constituted authorities of the land in the superhuman effort they are making to preserve the country, but give countenance and encouragement to their every effort, resting secure in the knowledge they mean nothing more, nothing less than victory to friends, and defeat to foes.

We owe this much to the gallant band of heroes who rising above all considerations but safety to the country, are each day periling, losing their lives to defend it. Only unanimity and harmony among the people can give encouragement to their hearts and strength to their arms. This is all I have to say. It is exceedingly dull in this section. There seems to be a universal gloom covering the land. This stormy winter augurs no good, and men feel that unless the windows of Heaven soon open, and God sends his rain upon the just and the unjust, we must have much suffering and distress. Our farmers are doing their utmost to make the best of the condition of things; are plowing and sowing, but with much misgiving as to the result of their labor. The mining interests of the country are at the present moment, suffering the most acutely. A want of water suspends work in the ordinary manner, and has made prospectors of all. Many valuable discoveries are being made, especially in copper in this vicinity. The region of country around and about Light's canon and Genesee Valley is filled with copper ore, and from many tests made, promises to exceed anything hitherto found in the State. The recent rupture in the affairs of the Round Valley Quartz Mining Company will, I fear, give a wrong impression concerning the quartz qualities in that section. The failure to make money by this company has not been from poorness of rock, but from mismanagement upon the part of the company. It is about to change hands, and pass under the control of Mr. E. D. Hosseklus. I have no hesitation in predicting complete success. The rock will pay.

Taylorville and Marion slowly improve. It is true they are dull; but what Mountain villages are not dull during our winter seasons? The people enjoy themselves. Twice a week, we have a Singing School, under the tutorage of Geo. W. Boyden. It is well attended. We have church and prayer meetings many days in the week, and many seem deeply interested in the good work. This evening, the Rev. Hadley is lecturing to a large audience upon temperance. The Indian Valley Dramatic Club is in fine blast, affording improvement to its members, and gratification to the public. Its success is now beyond question. Their performances have given complete satisfaction, and all hail with pleasure the announcement of each exhibition. Its members are composed of our best material, and the zest and the pride they manifest in the undertaking, give an earnest of life and continuity. They contemplate an opening of their doors again, within a few evenings. It is rumored they intend paying your town a visit. Should they do so, I bespeak for them a full house, and can assure you, that your people will not be sold. They desire, through the Union, to give expression of thanks to the ladies of membership, Mrs. G. W. Meylert, Mrs. G. W. Boyden, Mrs. J. D. Courtney, and Miss Nettie Hollar, for service rendered in behalf of the Club.

We hear frequently from our neighbors beyond the ridge, Honey Lake. It is, without doubt, the most flourishing portion of our county. They are anxiously looking for division. They feel the want of a county for themselves, and although I feel disappointment in their wish, yet I recognize their right and interest in the premises. I hope they will be gratified.

Yours in haste, U. S. A.

To the Public.

In the last QUINCY UNION there is a card from John S. Root, (or friend,) purporting to be in answer to the one which I wrote for the week previous, yet I fail to see where there has been any charge which I made against him, answered. He says "Mr. Stille has acknowledged in that letter all that I ever charged against him, but makes his principal, J. M. Avery Esq., an accessory to the fact of such a loose way of doing business, and if Mr. Stille has erred, Mr. Stille throws all the blame on the shoulders of others, and tries to drag down to his contemptible level, men whose shoes he is unfit to black."

Now this is the way that this very refined gentleman who does "not propose to answer his billingsgate and profanity," commences his article, yet we find him using the most contemptible and low-down language that he is capable of. I know that I have a bad habit of calling things by their right names. For this I beg to be excused, for I cannot help it. I have not lived in this county so long as Mr. Root has, by some three years, yet I believe while I have lived in it, I have enjoyed quite as good a position in society as he ever did, and what is more I think I shall always retain it, and when he says that I have tried to make John M. Avery accessory to my act, he knows that he is trying to garble my references to John M. Avery, in my former card. Let Mr. Root put my card in what shape he will, he will find that it has but one face, and that is truth. I stand clear in this matter, and shall continue to do so. Mr. Root charges me with going to my friends and getting them to interfere with Mr. Clark, (Collector) for the appointment as Deputy, under him. That charge is false. If any of my friends talked with Mr. Clark of me, they took the responsibility themselves, and I think it was kind of them. I told Mr. Clark in my office that I was sorry that it could not be so arranged that one man could hold both offices, as the pay was so small that it would not pay two. Now I want it distinctly understood that in this matter I have never been in the habit of plying onto the skirts of others, nor running after any man that I could find in the street for his sympathy. I do my own writing, and have no disposition to say anything about Mr. Root but what I say to his face, and that is what he does not like. He may twist the matter in just as many shapes as he pleases, the end will come. Mr. Root claims in his card to have been a friend of mine at the time of my appointment. In this I beg leave to differ with him as I know of his having been given the honor of backbiting me, more than two years since, in the matter of the appointment of Mr. Root as Deputy Collector, and that is what he does not like. LOCAL ITEMS.

MURDER IN PASTO.—Times are dull and money scarce.

COUNTY COURT.—A term of this Court will be held on the 1st Monday in March.

BUILDING.—A Law Office is being built on the corner of Main and Harrison streets.

22d BALL.—A Ball was given at Jim Lee's place in Big Meadows on the night of the 22d inst.

Read the letter of W. W. Carpenter, M. D., of Petaluma, which appears on the first page of this paper.

LAW OFFICE.—J. D. Goodwin has opened his law office in the building near the Court House, formerly occupied by P. O. Hurdley Esq.

NOT FOUND.—As yet the whereabouts of Johnson has not been discovered. He has probably left the county.

APPOINTED.—S. F. Seabury, formerly of La Porte, has been appointed U. S. A. Assessor for Plumas county, vice Stille removed.

Who Got It.—A pamphlet, addressed "To the best singer" in Quincy, came to the Post-office in the last mail. We know who ought to have had it.

STANGE.—The County Jail has been without an occupant for over two months. The citizens of Plumas must be a law abiding people.

QUER.—Some of the farmers in this valley are planting potatoes, in hopes of having an early crop. They may get nipped in the bud, yet.

To Mr. G. W. Wilson, proprietor of the Hotel at Blood's Mill in Indian Valley, our "Jours" are indebted for courtesies shown.

COBURN HOUSE.—To "Byers," the gentlemanly Clerk and Bar-keep, at the Coburn House, we are under obligations for favors rendered.

REMOVAL.—It is reported that the Indian Valley Dramatic Club intend giving one of their performances in Quincy. Come on; we will warrant a full house.

REMOVED.—We understand that Mr. Stille, U. S. A. Assessor for this county, has been removed by S. M. Avery, the Fed. Assessor for the Fourth District of California.

REWARD.—Sheriff Pierce has offered a reward of $250 for the arrest of Mat. Johnson, who destroyed the engines of the Round Valley Quartz Co's one day last week.

SPRING.—Birds of all kinds, frogs, snakes, &c. &c., have made their appearance, just as though Spring had fairly commenced. They may get terribly fooled before another month has passed.

RUSH CREEK.—The Berge Quartz Co. have struck rock in their ledge that pays big. They have also found another spring of water, by which they are enabled to run eight stamps at present.

BOY FOUND.—The body of A. Grimaux, who was drowned sometime since, near Long Bar, East Branch, was found a few days since by a party of Indians, about twelve miles from the place where he was drowned.

QUERY.—Did it ever occur to any of our readers that those who find the most fault with a newspaper, are sure to be the ones who never paid a cent toward its support. Just watch out and see if it is not the case.

INCORPORATED.—The Delta Silver and Copper Mining Co., located at Indian Valley, Plumas county, have filed articles of incorporation. Trustees: A. J. Ford, Louis McKibben and S. L. Newhouse.

EXPRESS CHANGE.—Whiting & Co's Express Messenger will, from this date, carry the Express matter over the Oroville road, and make the trip twice a week, at present. "Buck" has kept the Express running regularly during the past season, and intends to keep up the regularity. It suits us.

ICE.—The lake, near the summit of the ridge between Indian and American Valleys, is frozen over; the ice being about eighteen inches thick, and as clear as crystal. A party of men is now at work cutting it into blocks for the purpose of filling the ice houses in town.

NEW COUNTY.—As will be seen by the following, taken from the Sacramento Union's report of the proceedings of the Legislature, the friends of the new county have commenced active operations:

By Mr. CLARK.—An Act to create the new county of Lassen and to define its boundaries and provide for its organization. Referred to the Plumas and Shasta delegations.

GOOD.—The temporary furnace put up in Indian Valley by Mr. Chapman for the purpose of making an experiment upon copper ore in that section, was tried last week. About two hundred pounds of ore, taken from the Cosmopolitan ledge in Genesee Valley, was smelted, and the result was perfectly satisfactory. Mr. Chapman used a pair of blacksmith bellows for a blast, and with it, was enabled to extract metal which was 87 per cent. copper. We understand arrangements are being made for the purpose of building large smelting works during the summer.

Explanation.

I received, May 31st, 1863, the appointment as Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue, for the Sixth Division of Fourth Collection District of California, comprising the counties of Butte and Plumas.

The Internal Revenue laws require Butchers, Manufacturers, &c., to make and render between the first and tenth of each and every month, a list of animals slaughtered, or goods manufactured, &c., to the Assistant Assessor of the District where said business is transacted, and shall at the same time of rendering said list, pay the full amount of duties which have accrued, or should accrue as aforesaid to the Collector or Deputy Collector of the District aforesaid.

It being impossible for me to remain all the time in my office at Quincy, I could see no impropriety in requesting Mr. D. C. Stille, he being a Government officer and the Assistant Assessor of Plumas County, and in fact, the proper officer to whom the same lists were to be rendered, to receive the money for the duties rendered in said lists, and pay the money to me when I came to Quincy, when I could fill up Government receipts in favor of persons paying said duties, describing the article, amounts,

&c., in said receipts. I also requested Mr. Stille to collect some old Licenses which were assessed in October or November 1863. He collected five of them and paid me the money, returning the balance to me. I also requested Mr. Stille to collect Licenses of transient Peddlars when he found and assessed them, as they are traveling most of the time, and it is difficult sometimes for the Collector to find them. Mr. Stille collected but very little money for me, from the fact that I traveled over nearly the whole county, and attended to that duty myself. If Mr. Stille has collected any other money, either License or Income Tax, than I requested him to collect, he has done so on his own responsibility and at his own risk, or the persons from whom he collected it.

In relation to the business transactions between Mr. Stille and myself I will here state that he always appeared ready, and willing to do his duty and do it promptly, and as far as I was able to judge honestly and honorably.

In regard to the collection of the Internal Revenue Duties and Taxes in Plumas county, my intention was to keep within the meaning of the law, having in view the convenience of the tax-paying public more than my own. And I impute my success in collecting the revenue or Plumas county with so little difficulty, to the fact of my having treated the citizens without any ostentatious display of authority.

Very respectfully,
E. DUNHAM, Dep'y Collector.

JUDGSHIP.—The suit commenced by Hogan to oust Moore from the County Judgeship, has been completed, briefs and an agreed statement of facts has been filed, and the hearing set for the 2nd Monday in March, at Oroville, before Judge Sexton.

THANKS.—To Hon's. T. B. Shannon of Washington, and F. M. Smith of Sacramento, for favors in shape of Public Documents.

Lines, by Lulu, next week.

With our railroad facilities, and the requisite improvement of our wagon roads, we may enjoy a monopoly of the trade of the American, Indian and Honey Lake Valleys, and at least a portion of the trade and travel to the Humboldt, and to the great Bannock region, which is now beginning to attract attention from the reputed richness of its placers and ravines and quartz ledges.—Union Record.

That is if your county and its citizens put on the "requisite improvements."

THE SINGER SEWING MACHINES.

THE SINGER STANDARD MACHINES FOR Manufacturing purposes, are of greater speed, and superior to all other Machines of the kind. The superior, correct, simple and durable mechanical principles of these machines, place them beyond competition. All the great manufacturers of the United States and Europe are supplied with them. The Singer Letter A "Transverse Shuttle" Family Machine, with recent improvements for Hemming, Pelling, Braiding &c., is the most perfect and reliable family Machine yet offered. They are certain of correct action, at all rates of speed, upon all kinds of material, and with all kinds of thread.

The mechanism is entirely within view, and under the control of the operator, who thereby can avoid the perplexities and annoyances so common with Sewing Machines having their mechanism hidden from view, under pretence of simplicity of construction.

Plain printed instructions accompany each machine, from which any one can readily understand their use.

Pauplet, Price List, and specimens of work mailed free to any address.

A very great reduction has been lately made in the prices of the Singer Sewing Machine, thus enabling purchasers to get a first class machine at the same rates of inferior or second-class machines.

The Medical and Surgical Institute of

Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, is already secured in a position which places it, as well as the proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of Medical Science, and they occupy with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Record is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkey has fully equalled him in this country; as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary alumnus degree. Selecting this as his field of operations, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapkey has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as a matter of interest to their patrons in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's office are at his Medical and Surgical Institute on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Co.

We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper.

June 24th, 1863. v1-n29-3m.

NO FICTION, BUT TRUTH.

It is customary to speak of many remedies of the day in a light and frivolous manner, and this may answer where the case to be cured is of a trifling character, and the remedy presented simple. But when we are called to prescribe for diseases endured only with excruciating pain, whose termination is often fatal, we leave jesting, and proceed with earnestness to utter facts that will perhaps rescue a fellow being from a bed of sickness or the grave. It is thus that we would introduce to our readers SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP, and state that for the cure of humors there is nothing in the world can equal this popular and extensively used medicine. HISTORY OF A LIFE.

Day dawned—Within a curtained room,
Filled to faintness with perfume,
A lady lay, at point of doom.
Day closed—A child had seen the light;
But for the lady, fair and bright,
She rested in undreaming night.
Spring rose—The lady's grave was green;
And near it oftentimes was seen
A gentle boy, with thoughtful mien.
And then—He died! Behold before ye,
Humility's poor soul and story;
Life—Death—and all there is of glory.

UNITED STATES LOTTERY.—Tickets for this lottery for either Classes I. or II. distributed gratis.

No Internal Revenue stamps required. The drawing of a prize number will entitle the fortunate individual to One new, highly finished musket. One brand new suit of clothes. One pair shoes and stockings. One elegant blanket. One nice haversack and knapsack. One nice cartridge box with 60 rounds of ammunition. One nice tin plate, tin cup, knife, fork and spoon.

In addition to this the holder of the lucky number will have a regular income of $18 per month and "when this cruel war is over," will receive a capital prize of $100.

With such liberal inducements the managers hope to be largely patronized by an appreciative public. This is no humbug, catch-penny institution, but a genuine lottery, in which the managers will fulfill all they promise.

Legalized by an act of Congress, approved March 3d, 1863.

All prizes cashed by the Provost Marshal of the different districts.

Time of the drawing will be duly announced, and any one drawing a prize will be immediately notified of the same.

A "BULLY" RETURN.—A witness named John Brown, being required in a case before one of our courts, a few days since, an attachment was issued directing the sheriff to bring him into court. The writ was given to one of the deputies, but being unable to find the person wanted, he returned the writ with the following indorsements: "I have, after due and diligent search and inquiry, been unable to find the therein named defaulting witness in this city and county, but am informed and believe that 'his body lies mouldering in the ground, while his soul goes marching on.'"—Call.

A TOUGH QUESTION AND A LUCID ANSWER.—Question—If your mother's mother was my mother's sister's aunt, what relation would your great grand-father's uncle's nephew be to my older brother's first cousin's nephew-in-law?

Answer—As your mother's mother is to my older brother's first cousin's son-in-law, so is my mother's sister's aunt to my older brother's first cousin's nephew. Divide your mother's mother by my older brother's cousin's son-in-law, and multiply my mother's sister's aunt by your great grand-father's uncle's nephew, and either add or subtract—we forget which—and you will have the answer—"in the spring."

BIG AND LITTLE.—One day a farmer, driving along in his wagon, stopped and took in a poor little boy. The boy seemed much pleased. But soon he seemed filled with wonder. He would look for a while at the little front wheel and then at the big hind wheel. The farmer couldn't think why he kept looking and laughing, till at length driving his horse quite fast, the boy, forgetting himself, burst in a fit of laughter, and spoke to the little front wheel, "Go it little wheel, big wheel can't catch you."

A GENTLEMAN who has recently been prospecting in the Coast Range, in Mendocino and Lake counties, informs the Folsom Telegraph that it is a region of wonderful mineral richness, it seeming to him one vast bed of mineral composed of cinnabar, copper, silver and gold. There the grizzly holds undisputed sway, twenty having been seen in a single day. Other varieties of game are also abundant, supposed to have been driven thither from the settled portion of the State.

HONEY LAKE WAGON ROAD.—We would urge upon our Board of Supervisors the necessity of taking immediate steps towards having our roads put in condition for the Spring travel. This can only be done by the appointment of a suitable and responsible person to act as a Superintendent, establishing toll gates at the most eligible points, and collecting small toll-rates to pay the expenses of keeping the road in repair. This is a subject which should secure the earliest attention of the Supervisors, and which, if properly managed, will redound to their own credit and the benefit of the county.—Red Bluff Independent.

Snow, sitting beside his sweetheart wishing—"Oh, I wish I was a fish, and you was bait, how I'd bite."

TROOPS FOR INDIAN SERVICE.—General Wright has determined to send Colonel Black, with 250 troops of the Ninth Regiment of U. S. Infantry, by steamer, to aid in quelling Indian disturbances in Humboldt and Trinity counties. There are already six companies of infantry and one of cavalry near the scene of operations, under command of Lieutenant-Colonel Whipple.

An enthusiastic gentleman in speaking of the courage of his adored, said, "she would walk up to a cannon's or a lover's mouth without winking a muscle."

"Mister, I say, I suppose you don't know of anybody who wants to hire nobody to do nothing, don't you." The answer, was "Yes I don't."

Why is an indulgent father like President Lincoln? Answer—One grants US favors, the other favors U. S. Grant.
